Re: Parcels Containing Fruit and Vegetables

A number of parcels for members of the Canadian Active Service Force serving overseas have been received in Great Britain and had to be destroyed due to the parcels containing fruit or vegetables in a decayed condition.

Fruit and vegetables cannot properly be transported by parcel post, as when decayed, they may damage other parcels.

All postal employees are requested to question the sender of parcels destined for overseas with the object of preventing the acceptance for mail.

KING—ADAMS

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the McDougall church manse in Ralph William King, eldest son of Mrs. King and the late Norman V.

King of Fabyan. The Rev. Mr. Mc-
Minn officiated at the ceremony.
The bride looked charming in a gray-ish blue crepe gown with wine accessories. The happy couple and the bride's parents, enroute to the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. T. Connolly of Thornaby, Mr. and Mrs. King are making an extended tour to Jasper and other points, accompanied by the latter's cousin and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. Knoll.

TRAINEES IN SECOND GROUP TO REPORT NOVEMBER 22nd

Ottawa, November 6th.—With the second 30-day military training period scheduled to commence November 22, notices have been issued by the registrars of the thirteen divisional boards of the national war services department to single men of 21 and 22 and a small number in the 23-year-old class to report for medical examination.

In making this announcement, Major General L. R. LePêche, associate deputy minister, stated that the instructions make it clear that all medical practitioners in good standing throughout Canada have been appointed examining physicians by Hon.
James G. Gardiner, minister of national war services, and that all examination fees will be paid by the department. At the same time he stressed the fact that each man must sign the medical examination form on which appears the doctor's report on his physical condition.

Major General LePêche pointed out that since the time of national registration—last August—many young men have enrolled in universities and colleges, or have joined the navy, army, air force, or non-permanent active militia unit. "If notices to report for medical examination should be received by any of these men, they must immediately inform the registrar whose name appears on the upper left hand corner of the notice" he stated. "Their speedy cooperation in this connection will enable registrars to obtain other eligible young men to complete the required quota."

Any application for postponement of training must be made to the divisional registrar within eight clear days of the date appearing on the notice for medical examination.
Following the same procedure adopted in the case of the first group of young men called upon to undergo military training, those in the second group who are found to be medically unfit will be notified. Transport warrants, covering transportation from the recorded place of residence to the indicated training centre, will be issued if necessary.

SOLDIERS DRINKING MILK DAIRY HERDS MAKING A COMEBACK

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Canada need not worry much about the sobriety of her young men under arms. Even hard-boiled sergeant-majors have to admit it—they are, on the whole, a temperate lot.

The day has passed, it would seem, to hinge any more truth on the old saying that "a man's not a man unless he throws his daily ration of rum down the hatch." The lads are drinking milk, and in tremendous quantities.

In more than 60 centres throughout Canada where the Canadian Legion War Services is operating dry canteens, the managers report a steadily increasing consumption of the bovine beverage, both plain and chocolate flavored. So great is the demand, in fact, that difficulty is often experienced by the Legion in maintaining sufficient supplies.

It looks, one Legion officer said,
like a comeback for the dairy herds.

The W.A. of St. Mary's are planning to hold a silver tea and sale of home cooking in Mr. E. W. Peterson's office on Saturday, November 9th. All are welcome.

GROWN IN SUNNY SOUTHERN ONTARIO

In A Common Cause

With the gradual approach of the war towards the threshold of this Dominion, the importance of complete unity of the people of Canada and perfect accord and harmony between all governmental units, political parties and all classes and creeds, nationalities and groups is becoming daily more apparent.

This is very essential if this country is not to fall a victim to the first arm of aggression of the Nazi foe—propaganda designed to undermine morale and to create dissension, fear and a feeling of helplessness and hopelessness. This is the most dangerous of all the weapons employed by Hitler as the swift march of events in Europe has demonstrated only too well.

In every country which has been so far subjugated by the Hitler hordes, the arch-enemy of democracy has utilized propaganda for his first onslaught against his potential victims. In his book Mein Kampf he has plainly told the world that that was to be his strategy and that is one promise that he has carried out to the letter, with dire results to those who might have withstood his legions, had they but heeded this warning.

The Hitlerian program is to first weaken his intended victims from within, literally to encourage and assist them with poisoned propaganda to pave the way for an easy walk over with bombers, tanks and all the other weapons of the Nazi war machine. To date the British alone have taken the sting out of this insidious, lethal weapon and have called Herr Hitler's bluff. Canadians, too, are made of sterner stuff than others who have succumbed to the poisoned words of German propaganda and can be relied upon to halt the foe on this slippery battlefield. If the people of this country unite to resist these first advances and rout the enemy on that ground there can be no doubt of the ultimate outcome of the more tangible phases of the conflict.

East-West Unity

There are those who, because of the complexity of the population of this country, feared that Hitler's agents might find Canada a fertile soil in which to sow the seeds of discord, fear and demoralization, but any such fear which might have been harbored by a few has been completely dispelled.

Perhaps never in the history of this country have the people of the Dominion been so united in a common cause as they are today—determined to root out all those who would espouse even a semblance of the horrible Nazi doctrines and to preserve intact for themselves and their posterity, the great heritage of freedom and liberty which many Canadians inherited as their birthright and which the great majority of the others came here to seek and to find.

In Western Canada, comprised as it is of many diverse nationals, of many creeds, many races and many tongues, we find nothing but complete unity of purpose, an intense desire to sink all petty differences, an intense earnestness to bend every energy to the winning of this war to the end that those things which we value so highly may be conserved to us, our children and our children's children.

We have strong evidence that the same unity of purpose binds the Anglo-Saxon and the French constituents in Eastern Canada in a strong, well knit common bond of sympathy and understanding. Here is the testimony of Le Jour, powerful French language newspaper published in Montreal, the citadel of French-Canadian Quebec:

"About the war and the need to win it, French-Canadian Canadians think just like all the rest of the country. About 85 per cent. are pro-British in the present crisis and about 95 per cent. are passionately anti-Nazi. Just give me a chance to poll public opinion," says the editor, "and I am sure that I could prove that these figures are not exaggerated."

In this comforting editorial, the editor of Le Jour cites "four striking assertions which show the attitude of mind of French-Canadian Canadians: 1.—The complete failure of the theatrical Houdini thrust; 2.—Dupont's defeat; 3.—The complete victory of the men-responsible for our participation in the war; 4.—The perfect order which marked the three days of national registration.

"Isn't this enough proof for you?" continues Le Jour. "If not, go amongst the people and ask them reasonable questions, chat with our people, and you will see how the great agony of our era is shared by nearly three million French-Canadian Canadians, who, since the downfall of France, more than ever feel the need to forget their childish bickerings of the past, so as to unite themselves with all the other defenders of our country that is now in danger, with that nationality which has nevertheless, respected our language and our traditions for the past 180 years and along with whom we hope to develop a free, prosperous and happy life."

Strong evidence, surely, that all Canadians are prepared to sink narrow differences and partisan strife. Let this spirit prevail from the Atlantic to the Pacific and Canada will give a good account of herself in this great fight, whether the struggle is brought to these shores or whether it is confined to the other side of the ocean.

Guards Were Doubled

When The Queen Visited Hospital Where Wounded Germans Were

Two wounded German airmen, prisoners of war in a British military hospital, had the surprise and the disappointment of their lives recently. In the morning their guards were doubled, and they thought the invasion had begun, reports the London Daily Sketch. Instead, later, they found the Queen had been visiting the hospital. She had passed through the next room to them, but it was not until after she had left that she learned how near she had been to the prisoners.

Send Greatest Men

Ambassadors To Other Countries From China Are Always Outstanding

The Chinese continue their practice of sending great men out as ambassadors; in the case of the present ambassador to the United States, Dr. Hu Shih, they have sent a man many regard as the greatest living Chinese philosopher. Along with being a scholar and diplomat he is something of a wit, which again is in keeping with the Chinese policy. One of the woman's magazines reprints an anecdote in point.

A great lady of Hawaii, inviting Hu Shih to dine, cabled him in her best Oriental manner. "Oh sage and honorable sir," the invitation began, "deign to honor our humble board, etc., etc." From first sonorous phrase to last, it ran 300 words. Hu Shih, then aboard ship bound for Honolulu, accepted with a will. He cabled a prompt reply. It read:

"Can do, Hu Shih."

This is in line with the Wellington Koo stories, of which the one most frequently told concerns Koo's appearance at a New York banquet. An important American, sitting near Koo, determined to befriend him. Leaning across the table, and speaking very distinctly, the American made the stranger at home by inquiring: "Likee soup?" Koo smiled agreeably. An hour or so later, the toastmaster called on Koo for the address of the evening. The gifted gentleman from China made his speech, displaying beautiful English, and sat down to heavy applause. When it died out, Koo bent toward his new friend.

"Likee speech?" he asked.

More Band Music Suggested

Nothing Like It To Rouse Spirits Of The People

The Amherstburg Echo thinks what Canada needs is more band music. More stirring, patriotic band music on radios, in theatres and at community events. There is nothing like a band to rouse the spirits of the citizenry and as a wartime effort the people should be given the opportunity to hear marches and songs whenever possible. There are few people who do not get that piggy-wiggly feeling up and down their spine when a band passes on parade. Canadians will receive greater inspiration to patriotic endeavors when they hear a band, and so we would suggest more bands more often.

Placing of a $3,600,000 order for six large steam-driven minesweepers for the Royal Canadian Navy was announced by Munitions Minister C. D. Howe.

The six vessels, costing close to $600,000 each, will be built by Canadian Vickers. They are the same type as those presently being constructed in Toronto and Vancouver.

Historic Guns Saved

Returned To Nelson's Ship When King George Intervened

The London correspondent of the Ottawa Journal says: I hear that we owe it to the intervention of King George himself that the historic guns on the old "Victory" have been saved from the scrap heap. They had been earmarked by the Ministry of Supply to be broken up for munitions, but happily were saved at the last moment, and returned to Nelson's grand old vessel at Portsmouth.

No one complains when guns brought home as trophies from the last war are utilized for this purpose, for they are ugly monstrosities in any market square. But there is still plenty of old iron that Lord Beaverbrook can requisition without pouncing on cannon that link us up with the story of Trafalgar.

While the black-out continues, London can well dispense with its lamp-posts.

The World's History

When Life Began And The Advent Of Man

Life began, according to experts' estimates, about 1,200,000,000 years ago. Call that beginning midnight. Call the interval between then and now 12 hours, with 1940 representing high noon.

On that time basis, it wasn't until after 8 a.m. that the first vertebrates (backbone animals) came into existence, not until 9:30 that the dinosaurs showed up, not until 10:45 a.m. that the birds came, and not until 11:58 a.m. that prehistoric man arrived on the scene.

It was only a tenth of a second ago that the ancient Egyptians and Sumerians, first people of whom any record exists, made the first stab at organized society. Minneapolis Star-Journal.

3 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup sugar

1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
1/2 cup corn meal
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
Blend shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg, beat until creamy. Add milk, All-Bran and corn meal. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Stir flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 16 muffins (2 1/2 inches in diameter); 12 muffins (3 inches in diameter).

ORANGE BLANC MANGE

3 tablespoons granulated sugar
4 tablespoons Durham corn starch
1/2 cups hot milk
1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
Combine sugar thoroughly with corn starch and salt. Stir in hot milk. Stir and cook in double boiler until mixture thickens smoothly. Cover and cook with occasional stirring, until no raw flavor remains. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla, orange juice and rind. Cool partially, then turn into stemmed glasses and chill for serving. May be accompanied by cream, plain or whipped.
Note: For the softer, more delicate type of pudding, if oranges are sweet reduce corn starch to 3 tablespoons.

English Christmas Cards

Are Being Made This Year The Same As Usual

Christmas cards for 1940 will be available in England in as big a variety of design and price as usual, but next year they must not exceed three-fifths of an ounce in weight and 6d. in price, says the London Daily Sketch. This is the effect of the Ministry of Supply order which came into force recently. It does not mean that the manufacture of greeting cards is to be banned. Erroneous interpretation of the order had created considerable alarm in mid-Lancashire, biggest centre of Christmas card production in the country. "To cope with this season's orders members of my Association have already made more than 10,000,000 personal cards and produced more than 100,000 sample books, which alone have cost £29,000," Mr. J. Hodgson Clarkson, honorary secretary of the Mid-Lancashire Christmas Card Manufacturers' Association, states.

Might Be Good Idea

Suggestion That British Government Employ Jobless Musicians In Shelters

The Musicians' Union suggested that the government put hundreds of jobless musicians to work chancing the gloom out of air-raid shelters. The union said the musicians would also contribute to the support of public morale during the winter when the blackout will begin soon after 4 p.m.

The government would pay a set wage to each musician, the union proposed, and performances would be restricted to certain hours.

TEACHER: Thanks indeed for telling me about Postum, Mr. Brown. I've been drinking it regularly and the things I worried about a month ago seem silly now!

MR. CAFFEINE-NERVES: School's out for me! Postum and caffeine-nerves just don't get along!

There was a long silence before the sick man spoke.

"My head aches infernally. Can you give me a drink, or isn't that allowed?"

Jim poured out a glass of water and, supporting the shoulders of the Minister, put the glass to his lips. He drank the contents greedily and sank back with a sigh upon the pillow.

"I suppose I am a little light-headed, but I could swear that your name was Carlton," he said.

"That is my name, sir," said Jim, and the Minister pondered this for a little time.

"Anything broken?" he asked. "It was the car, I suppose? I told that stupid chauffeur of mine to be careful. The road was like glass."

He moved first one leg and then the other gingerly, and then his arms. "Nothing is broken at all, Sir Joseph," said Jim. "You have had a little shock."

He had already rung for the doctor, who was sleeping in a room below.

"Shock, eh?" "I don't remember." " * * * And Harlow?" His eyebrows lowered again. "A decent fellow but rather overdone. I went to his house to-night, didn't I?"

"I remember. How long ago was it?" Jim would not tell him that the visit to Harlow's had happened days before.

"Yes, yes, I remember now. Where did I go after that?" " * * * to the House, I suppose? My mind is like a whirling ball of wool!"

The doctor came in, a dressing gown over his pajamas, and the Minister's mind was sufficiently clear to guess his profession.

"I'm all in, doctor. What was it, a stroke?"

"No, Sir Joseph," said the doctor. "He was feeling his patient's pulse, and seemed satisfied."

"Sir Joseph thinks he might have been in a car collision," suggested Jim, with a significant glance at the doctor.

The man was terribly weak, but the brightness of his intellect was undimmed.

"What is the matter with me?" he asked, irritably, as the medical man put the stethoscope to his heart.

"I'm wondering whether you have ever taken drugs in your life?"

"Drugs?" snorted the old man. "Good God! what a question! I don't even take medicine! When I feel queer I go to my osteopath and he puts me right."

The doctor grinned, as all properly constituted doctors grin when an osteopath is mentioned, for the medical profession is the most conservative and the most suspicious of any.

"Then I shan't give you drugs," he said, with a nimble turn of mind to cover up an awkward question.

"Your heart is good and your pulse is good. And all you want now is a little sleep."

"And a little food," growled Sir Joseph. "I am as hungry as a starved weasel!"

They brought him some chicken broth, hot and strong, and in half an hour he had fallen into a gentle sleep. The doctor beckoned Jim outside the room.

"I think it is safe for you to leave him," he said. "He is making a better recovery than I dreamed was possible. I suppose he said nothing about his adventures?"

"Nothing," said Jim, and the man of medicine realized that, even if Sir Joseph had explained the strange circumstances of his arrest and appearance at the police court, it was very unlikely that he would be told.

Early the next morning Jim called at Downing Street and saw the Prime Minister.

"He is under the impression that he was in a motorcar accident after leaving Park lane. He remembers nothing about the speech in the House: the doctor will not allow him to be told until he is strong again. I have very grave doubt on one point, sir, and that I want to clear up. And, to clear it up, it may be necessary that I go outside the law."

"I don't care very much where you go," said the Prime Minister; "but we must have the truth. Until the facts are known, not only Sir Joseph, but the whole Cabinet, is under a cloud. I will give instructions that you are to have carte blanche, and I will support you in any action you may take."

With this confident assurance Jim went on to Scotland Yard to prove the truth of a theory which had slowly evolved in the dark hours of the night—a theory so fantastical that he could hardly bring himself to its serious contemplation.

CHAPTER XXII

Four hundred and fifteen cablegrams were put on the wire in one morning and they were all framed in identical terms:

"Remit by cable through Lombard Bank Carr Street Branch all profits taken in Rata Transaction 47 to receipt of this instruction. Acknowledge. Rata."

This message was dispatched at 3 o'clock in the morning from the G. P. O.

The Foreign Department manager of the Lombard Bank was an old friend of Mr. Ellenbury, and had done business with him before.

Mr. Ellenbury drove to the bank the following afternoon and saw the head of the Foreign Department.

"I am expecting some very extensive cable remittances through the Lombard," he said, "and I shall want cash."

The sour-looking manager looked even more sour.

"Rata," I suppose? "I'm surprised that you are mixed up with these people, Mr. Ellenbury. I don't think you can know what folks are saying in the city."

He was a friend and was frank. Mr. Ellenbury listened meekly.

"One cannot pick and choose," he said. "The war made a great deal of difference to me; I must live."

The war is an unfailing argument to explain changed conditions and can be employed as well to account for adaptable standards of morality. The manager accepted the other's viewpoint with reservations.

"How much has Harlow made out of this swindle," he asked, again exercising the privilege of friendship.

"Some day I will tell you," said the lawyer cryptically. "The point is, I expect very large sums."

"Sterling or what?"

"Any currency that is stable," said Mr. Ellenbury.

That evening came the first advice—from Johannesburg. The sum remitted was not colossal, but it was large. New Orleans arrived in the night and was delivered to Mr. Ellenbury with Chicago, New York, Toronto and Sydney. The cable advice accumulated: "Mr. Ellenbury took no steps to draw the money that was piling up at the Lombard Bank until the second day."

The Average Young Soldiers

Passage in One Letter Sums Them Up Fairly Well

It is our privilege to read some of the letters that soldiers write to their folks here at home, to mothers and sisters and friends.

And we sense the compliment when we are entrusted with missives in which there are intimate family passages, which, of course, we do not reproduce.

We are not, we think, betraying a confidence if, without the reference by which you might identify the writer, we reproduce just a few words from one such a passage in one such a letter.

Here it is— * * * and may God watch over you and all at home until I return.

We knew this young chap slightly before he went away. We knew him to be a good clean chap, one who lived decently and honorably, and one who didn't parade himself or his thoughts. The average young chap as we would want the average young chap to be.

Well, he's been over there quite a while now. And his "sign-off" to his letter is by no means exceptional.

Do we need to make a sermon of this? We hardly think so. We'll just ask you to read those few words stolen from the private message of his letter. You can figure it out for yourself. Kirkland Lake Northern News.

Has Had Experience

And Belthop Thinks Women Stingier With Tips Than Men

The female of the species is more stingy than the male, according to Bob Carlew, of Montreal. Bob should be somewhat of an authority, for during the past 15 years he has been pageboy, bellhop, and bell captain in some of the largest hotels in Canada. "Yep," he announced, "the hardest work and the smallest tips a bellhop can get will be handed out by women in nine cases out of every ten, and at the top of the ladder for tightfistedness stands the debutante."

"Take the average man," Bob explained. "He may only hand out a dime or a quarter for each call, but he does it regularly. The average woman checks into a hotel, she'll tip the boy who carries up her bags—usually a dime, then, when she leaves, she'll tip the lad who carries them out. Meanwhile, during her stay, you can run your feet down to the ankle bone and about all you'll ever get is a sweet smile. "An exception to this," he added, "is the showgirl. Ninety per cent. of them don't have much money, but it is mighty seldom you get one who expects anything for nothing. It's their attitude more than the cash involved, which makes the boys willing to do things for them on the double."

But Harlow had no other objective than the accumulation of money. He had shown a vicarious interest in the public weal when he had presented his model police station to the country; he had certainly subscribed liberally to hospital appeals; but none of these gifts belonged to a system of charity or public spirit. He was a man without social gifts—the joys or sufferings of his fellows struck no sympathetic chord in his nature. If he gave, he gave cold bloodedly, and yet without ostentation.

TO THE PRESIDENTS, OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF ALL LOCAL RED CROSS BRANCHES

Re: Collection of Scrap Records

We have just been informed by the R.C.A. Victor Company Limited that they are prepared to accept old Bluebird or Victor records, and that they will pay us the amount of 5c for each record. They particularly specify that the records must be either Victor or Bluebird, but they can either be used or worn out and they will even pay for broken records providing all the pieces are turned in. There is also no limit to the number of records they will buy on this proposition. This offer is only for the month of NOVEMBER, and it will be necessary, therefore for our branches desiring to help the division in obtaining money from this source that they immediately commence collecting these records, and during the last week in November ship them to the division.

Branches shipping these to the division will mark same Red Cross Supplies, and thus enable us to obtain free transportation.

We are inviting the co-operation and support of all our branches in order to enable the division to provide the amount due our national headquarters in connection with our quota, and therefore every branch will be working on behalf of the division in raising funds from this source.

Will you be good enough to let us know if your branch will be willing to undertake this service, and make known to all the people in your district that old Bluebird and Victor records will be accepted for shipment to this division.

Thanking you,
Yours sincerely,
D. H. Tomlinson,
Commissioner.

The World of Wheat

H. G. L. Strange

A series of momentous discoveries have recently been made in Great Britain, and because of it all, an action has just been taken by the British government which may in time completely solve Canada's and the world's surplus wheat problem.

The discoveries are that the now famous vitamin B-1, sometimes known as thiamin or aneurin, controls to a great extent the health, the energy and the well-being of people; then that this vitamin can be produced artificially at a low cost; and more important still that it can easily be added to wheat flour, so making bread almost a complete food in itself.

The British government will require by law that all flour manufactured after the spring of 1941 shall contain the necessary amount of vitamin B-1.

It is expected that this "fortifying" of flour will eventually spread to all wheat-using countries, and that it will result in an additional consumption of his more nutritious and even more palatable bread.

I have calculated that if every person in the world now using bread made from wheat would consume as little as one extra slice a day, then the entire world wheat surplus would quickly disappear, and wheat acreage would have to be increased.

SEEDTIME HARVEST

By Dr. K. W. Neaby

Director, Agricultural Department

The discoloration on the germ end of wheat grains, commonly called "black point" or "black tip," is unusually common in this year's crop. The term "kernel smudge" has been adopted by plant pathologists for this disease to avoid confusion with a less conspicuous and less common disease which they call black point. Kernel smudge is a fungus disease, and may be caused by at least two different fungi. One of them (Fusarium moniliforme) is a dangerous parasite, being a very common cause of seedling blight and root-rot of wheat. Incidentally, it is capable of attacking roots, leaves and grains of barley.

The fungi which cause kernel smudge are probably present in all wheat fields in western Canada, and the air contains an abundance of spores, especially in late summer and in the fall. Outbreaks of the disease such as that which occurred this year must, therefore, be due largely to favourable weather conditions. It appears that the new rust resistant varieties are more susceptible than were the old standard varieties such as Marquette.

There is, at present, no way of controlling or preventing kernel smudge. Diseased seed may produce a crop free from kernel smudge, and the crop produced from disease-free seed may contain many discoloured kernels. Since, however, one of the fungi involved may cause seedling blight, if "smudged" grain is used for seed it should be treated with an organic mercury dust.

Dr. F. J. Greaney, Associate Plant Pathologist at the Dominion Rust Research Laboratory, has consented to prepare a more complete discussion of this problem for publication in the next issue of the now well known, semi-annual "Seedtime and Harvest."

VIKING ITEMS

Arrangements for the observation of Remembrance Day, which this year falls on Monday, November 11th, are nearing completion, and sponsored by the Viking branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L.

Kapt. Ian Stewart-McVine of Edmonton will give the memorial address. The service will follow the procedure of former years, and will be held in the Elks hall as usual. A good turnout requested. Ex-service men, members of the V.V.R., and Viking Volunteer Platoon, from Kinross, Viking and Bruce, will parade from Brown's garage show rooms at 2:15 p.m. prompt under Platoon Commander G. C. Haworth, and Serg. J. Orton in charge, and march to the Elks hall to render the 21-gun salute which commences at 2:30 o'clock. If the weather is favorable, the parade will fall in after the service and observe a flag raising ceremony at the Memorial park. Ex-service men to wear medals and decorations, and the V.V.R. to wear arm bands and forage caps if available.

The annual Poppy Sale for disabled veterans will be held commencing Saturday, November 9th, at Kinsella, Viking and Bruce.

The ex-service men's banquet will be held in the Viking Hotel dining room at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are 65c single, and $1.25 per couple, and out of necessity must be confined to veterans and their wives and lady friends. Tickets are now on sale by local Legion members, and should be procured before Friday of this week so that the approximate number wishing to attend is known. There is a limit to the number that can be accommodated so get your tickets early.

A dance open to the public will be held in the Elks hall commencing at 9:30 p.m. Admission 25c per person. Everybody welcome.

Local merchants have all agreed not to sell those delicious little Japanese oranges that used to grace the tables of Canadian homes during the Christmas holidays. The reason is obvious and the merchants should be congratulated upon their stand. Japan recently joined with Germany and Italy in a pact against the British Empire and any goods bought from them will assist in carrying on war against us. Let us eat more Canadian grown apples instead which are now very plentiful, and thereby help the growers of B.C. and Ontario.

Vern Gilpin, who has been employed at the Graham hardware store for the past ten years, received orders on Monday to proceed to an eastern destination to take up radio work with the R.C.A.F. He joined up several months ago. Vern took up radio work as a hobby several years ago and operated one of the best amateur radio transmission sets in the province. He is also an electrician which will be of benefit to him in the R.C.A.F. We all join in wishing him success and a safe return when the war is won.

"Canada's participation in the war should be 'total' because this war is ours as much as England's"—Senator Ariside Blair.
